AROUND MIDNIGHT

Meet our musicians!

Back to the roots: this is literally the journey that the trio Two Roots offers us in this performance.

When guitar-inspired blues meets voice and percussion, the three musicians ignite, allowing their soul and heart to speak directly. They deliver a music filled with joy, hope, and generosity on stage, to the greatest delight of their audience.

A trio that will get you dancing to blues in their own unique style. If you listen closely, you'll recognize slightly offbeat melodies in a warm and original late-night atmosphere. The sweet voice of Juliette Chevalier will be accompanied by Arnaud Lacarte on guitar and Hugues Lassere on double bass.

MORVAN LERAY

Meet our musicians!

George is a vocalist, trumpeter, and bandleader working in the world of jazz and blues. He is drawn to music that swings, breathes, and leaves space for interaction – both on stage and with the audience. As a bandleader, George focuses on groove, phrasing, and real-time communication, keeping every performance flexible and alive. Living and working in Lithuania, he performs, teaches classes and workshops, and collaborates with musicians and dancers across the scene.

From Bon Iver to Van Morrison through the greatest standards of Jazz, Blues and other pop folk songs, Mo sings, accompanied by his guitar and his love for song. But he doesn't just cover these pieces, he puts them back to his taste, relying on the emotion of the moment and the place where he finds himself. A voice with varied palettes, sometimes suave, sometimes hoarse, a sober guitar playing offering just what is needed to appreciate the moment, and ask it to last... a little longer.
